The content being addressed today is sensitive in nature.

Please take any self care or wellness break you may need.

This may include:

- Exiting the room at any point during the presentation
- Have a private discussion with an OCRSM member afterwards
Reflection Exercise

- How comfortable do you feel navigating a disclosure of sexual assault or misconduct with a student?
- How comfortable do you feel explaining your duty to report to a student/another person?
- How comfortable do you feel discussing sexual or interpersonal misconduct with your class?
- How comfortable do you feel reporting to OCRSM?
- How comfortable do you feel navigating a conversation about OCRSM’s process and procedures with a student?
- How knowledgeable do you feel about resources on campus?
The Office of Civil Rights and Sexual Misconduct (OCRSM) administers the University of Maryland's non-discrimination policies and works to foster a learning and working environment free from all forms of discrimination and harassment, including sexual misconduct.

OCRSM is sometimes referred to as the Title IX Office.

OCRSM is tasked with responding to reports of discrimination and harassment, including sexual misconduct and conducting university-wide training & educational programming.

OCRSM provides support and resources for pregnant and parenting students.
What is Title IX?

“No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving federal financial assistance.”
Title IX at UMD

- Reflects the University’s commitment to addressing reports of sexual and interpersonal misconduct involving members of the UMD community
- Contains information about reporting options, supportive measures, and on and off campus resources for parties involved in the reports of misconduct
- Sets out to define prohibited conduct
- Applies to all students, faculty, and staff
Prohibited Conduct under policy:

Sexual Harassment
- Quid Pro Quo
- Hostile Environment
- Sexual Assault
  - Non-consensual Sexual penetration
  - Fondling
  - Incest
  - Statutory Rape
- Dating Violence
- Domestic Violence
- Stalking

Other Sexual Misconduct
- Sexual coercion
- Sexual exploitation
- Sexual intimidation
- Attempted sexual assault
- Other sex-based offenses
- Retaliation"
Retaliation & Amnesty Provision

Policies prohibit Retaliation

• Action taken against an individual because they:
  ○ Reported or filed a complaint of discrimination or harassment
  ○ Participated in an investigation or proceeding related to a harassment complaint
  ○ Can include: intimidation, threats, coercion, discrimination, retaliatory harassment

Amnesty Provision (Title IX)

• A student who reports Prohibited Conduct to the University or law enforcement or who participates in an investigation either as a Complainant or witness will not face disciplinary action for violating University drug and alcohol policies
OCRSM Procedures + Rights for Parties Overview
After a report is received…

The Title IX Coordinator…

- …assesses immediate safety needs of parties involved and the campus community
- …conducts an initial assessment of incident
- …collaborates with campus partners on a need-to-know basis to provide supportive measures to the parties

Outreach to parties

- Email may be sent to reporter if more information is needed to move forward with outreach to involved parties
- Outreach email is sent to the party who the report identifies as the complainant
- Invitation to discuss supportive measures and options for addressing report is sent to the complainant

As a Responsible University Employee, you should…

- …expect limited follow-up
- …trust that outreach happens and appropriate actions are taken
- …be aware that you may be contacted on a need-to-know basis
- …make sure you know resources available on campus to be able to help support someone that discloses to you

iCare
An early alert ticketing system…

To coordinate student outreach and support services

To build a bridge, directly linking faculty to support staff

To collect, manage, track and assess data that helps us anticipate needs and build the necessary programs to address those needs
Examples of Academic Concerns…

A student who was previously engaged in the course has stopped attending lectures and submitting assignments, and is not responding to outreach from the instructor/TA.

A student's group members have approached the instructor/TA with concerns about their peer.

There has been a noticeable dropoff in a student's grade in the course, but they have been unresponsive to outreach from the instructor/TA. We've reached the midpoint of the semester and there is no realistic way for the student to pass the course.
Roadmap: Life Cycle of iCare

1. Faculty, TA, note a concern for a student
2. Faculty complete the iCare form
3. The advising team is notified of the concern and reaches out to the student
4. Advisors work with students to identify the challenges impeding their success
5. Advisors work with the student to build a success plan and connect the student with relevant campus resources
6. Advisors help establish achievable goals and monitor student progress
Equity Priorities

- Re-engage and re-enroll underserved students
- Ensure equitable access to resources
- Eliminate administrative barriers to graduation
- Promote equitable learning practices and reduce DFW rates
Frequently Asked Questions
Where can I find this form?

❖ Confluence
❖ JIRA
❖ Sample Google Form:

What is the difference between the iCare team and the iSchool advising team?

The iCare team is the iSchool Advising team! By completing an iCare form, you are helping academic advisors complete their outreach in an organized, efficient and timely manner.
Who can complete the form?

This outreach referral form connects faculty and GA’s/TA’s with academic advisors.
What happens to the student who is referred through the iCare form?

Advisors will review each form and reach out to connect with a student and provide support.

Advisors will also encourage students to connect with faculty and TA’s.
Does this violate FERPA?

No.
I have a question about the iCare form, who may I speak with?

iSchool Inter-Lab Opportunities

Connie
Proposal to include intentional inter-lab activities to open house (and other events)
What do we want?

01
Informalize Gatherings
Open House opportunity
Potlucks
Other gatherings

02
Inter-Lab Opportunities
Cross-pollination in research
Less insular labs

03
Faculty Cross-Lab Mingling
Bridge divide between HCI / GLAM / Privacy / Others
Why do we want it?

- De-Frag iSchool Identity
- Facilitate Collaboration
- Create Social Support Network
Specifics-ish

We want casual opportunities

- Not structured by lab
- Non-work related activities
- Let’s be honest, probably food.

Examples:

Movie Nights, Cultural Celebrations, Painting Nights, Pick-Up Sports, Potlucks, Non-Academic Learning Circle Opportunities.
Issues to Consider

Incentivize Participation
Current events don’t have mixed student/faculty participation. Add social contributions to review?

Topic Based is Insular
Topics (job talks, seminars, etc) draw similar research interests - which already coalesce around labs. Work-based functions don’t diversify participants.
Unintentional Departmental Fragmentation Won’t Be Fixed Without Intentional Corrective Action.

Dr. Polly O’Rourke has been at the University of Maryland for over twelve years during which she has been actively engaged in developing and executing interdisciplinary research. She started in 2011 as an Assistant Research Scientist at the UMD Center for Advanced Study of Language (CASL), and was promoted to Associate Research Scientist in 2017. She continued in that role when in 2018, CASL became the Applied Research Lab for Intelligence and Security (ARLIS). During this time she worked with researchers from a wide variety of departments and colleges at UMD, as well as partners from other institutions. Her primary research areas are cognitive neuroscience and second language acquisition. In 2022, she joined the College of Information Studies as Director of Research Development. In this role, she is supporting faculty in funding proposal development and writing, as well as working with the Associate Dean for Research to improve the iSchool’s research capacity and impact. She holds a PhD in Linguistics from the University of Arizona.
